

70 YEARS of REFORMED EDUCATION
 PASS THE PROMISE
 2005-2015

Sixth in a series of seven inserts commemorating 70 years of Reformed education.

The Lord continued to pour out His blessings on another decade of reformed education in the lower mainland. Serving four different cities in two different nations, these five schools provided a firm foundation in Christ for hundreds of students: William of Orange, John Calvin, Cornerstone, Credo Elementary, and Credo High. Great is His faithfulness!

"Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful."

- Hebrews 10:23

1

2

3

4

1: The girls of the 2007 grad class at William of Orange; 2: Raising of the flag at Cornerstone; 3: JCCS grade 7 trip to Salt Spring Island in 2012; 4: The annual school-wide water fight at CCES in 2014.

Above: 2005 JCCS staff under Principal Pieter Torenvliet and Vice-Principal Klaas Jagersma. Below: CCES staff in 2011 under Principal Heres Snijder.

Above: Trinity Christian Academy in Vernon got its start in 2011 as an offshoot of William of Orange, operating with just three students. Their numbers grew quickly; pictured above are the K-4 students of 2013.

Right: Longstanding teachers Sixten Koat (above) and Sarah Vanderugten (below) were fixtures at CCHS for many years before retiring in 2015 and 2012, respectively.

Left: JCCS students at the finish line of the 2014 Run for Life.

Below: Character Day is a staple of dress-up days, filling classrooms with faces like little Waldo at JCCS (left) and dozens of unique characters at Cornerstone (right).

Derek Hoogerdijk spent most of this decade as the coach for both the senior boys and senior girls soccer teams at CCHS.

The CCHS senior boys volleyball team brought home the 'A' provincial banner in 2011/12.

Above: One of Cornerstone's many concert practices through the years.

Above Right: Darlene Flokstra and Christina Vandergaag directed the JCCS spring concert in 2015.

Right: Kent Dykstra led a CCHS band performance for the first time at the Reformation Day assembly in 2011.

Let His praise ring out!